The making of glass is an ancient art, but where, when, and how did it begin? This talk will explore the discovery of glass-making, the techniques of glass-making over the ages, and the civilizations known for their involvement in the art. We will look at early glass in the form of beads, ornaments, jewelry and vessels; glass in the classical cultures of Greece and Rome; Medieval stained glass; trading in glass; and modern works in glass.
